The Filipinos were awaiting the advance of the troops and as they began to move forward the rebels started a raitling fire, which made considerable noise, but did no great dumage. The Americans declined to answer, but ressed steadily forward. They marched through the brush and banana groves from the left, but on the right they route was mainly through paddy fields, which afforded no protection from the rebel fire. WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The Pres. | © ident today sent to Congress the following message on the Pacific cable:

As a consequence of the ratification o of the treaty of Paris by the Senate of the United States and its expected ratdiffication by the Spanish Government, Githe United States will come into possession of the Philippine islands. on the farther shores of the Pacific. The Hawaiian Islands and Guam being convenient stopping places on the way across the sea, the necessity for speedy cable communication between the United States and the Philippine islanda has become imperative. Such communication abould be es ablished in such a way as to be wholy under the control of the United @ States, whether in time of peace or war, At present the Philippines can be reached only by cables which pass through many foreign countries, and the Hawalian Islands and Gnam can be only communicated with by steam er, involving delays in each instance of it least a week. The present conditions 📵 should not be allowed to continue for moment longer than is absolutely

The time has now arrived when a cable in the Pacific must extend as far more rested on american arms, and shelter for the native soldiers, who selves. Further deep- @ sea soundings must be taken west of the Hawaiian Islands before the best route can be selected for the cable. Under these circumstances, it becomes a paramount necessity that measures should be taken before the close of the present Congress to provide such means as may seem suitable for the establishment of a cable system.

I recommend the whole subject to the careful consideration of the Congress and to such prompt action as lo may seem advisable.

WILLIAM M'KINLEY. Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C., February 10, 1899.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.-- If the construction of the Pacific cable is not authorized by the present Congress it will not be for lack of Administration pressure. The message of President McKinley sent to Congress today marshals the arguments in favor of the construction of the cable, but makes no recommendation as to Governmental or private construction. President McKinley lays particular stress upon the absolute necessity for control of the cable by the Government in case of | @ war, and in this seems to lean toward paternalism. Whether or not this is the outgrowth of his policy for the construction of the Nicaragua canal by the Government is still a question, but k is known that within forty-eight hours he has signified his willingness 🔊 to sign a bill appropriating the necesmary funds for the construction of a ceble from San Francisco to Manila by way Honolulu, Wake Island and Guam. Last week the President called for all papers in connection with the cable case, and these were considered by the Cabinet. Later be sent for Mr. Bennett of New York, the author of the pending cable bill, and that conference led to the measure of today, than which there could not be stronger argument for the immediate laying of the Pacific cable.

Speaker Reed has consented to recognize Bennett to call up his cable bill at once, and when this is done an amendment will be submitted providing that the Postmaster General may receive bids for the construction of the cable by private corporations, in lieu of the subsidy clause providing that the cable were attempting to make their way shall be of American manufacture, and with all speed to the shelter afforded doing away with subsidies. It is to reach their goal, being stopped by panies ready to bid for the construction of the cable.

W. A. KINNEY SENDS WORD

Opposition of Pettigrew--The Various Bills--Imports and Immigration. A Forecast Made.

(Latest advices to Planters from Attorney W. A. Kinney, special representative at the National Capital of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association and the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce:)

WASHINGTON, D. C .- At this writing the prospect of Hawaiian legislation, both general and special, is more doubtful @ than ever. The three special bills extending customs, immigration and shipping laws to Hawaii, respectively, are still held up either in the Senate or the House.

Day before yesterday Pettigrew objected to the consideration of the shipping and navigation bill—this has passed the House. Pettigrew privately stated that he would object to all special bills on Hawaii so as to force the general Hawaiian bill to a hearing this session, and when that was up he intended to make an onslaught on many of its provisions, which he considered to be in the interests of the "sugar barons."

Knox, chairman of the territorial committee in the House, having charge of the general Hawaiian bill, told Frear and myself that he would object to these special bills introduced out of their order, so as to force a hearing of his own bill; and with that end in view, objected, as I have already written you, to the consideration of the House bill extending the immigration laws to Hawaii, SO THAT THE SESSION MAY CLOSE WITH-OUT ANY LEGISLATION WHATSOEVER.

If any special bill gets through, it will probably be the bill in reference to immigration, for Congress evidently believes that we will run in any amount of Asiatic immigration if we get the

This week we will enter a protest before the Senate finance committee against delaying action upon the House bill relating to the customs. This will not have the slightest possible effect, but it will put us on record.

I hope that the steamer of Feb. 11 will bring me some protests or petitions from Hawaii which I can use to press the matter home on the Senate at large.

We will probably prepare a bill this week to provide for unanimous jury verdicts and a grand jury system and introduce it as an urgent measure. This will help force a consideration of @ Hawaiian matters. We are afraid that the Edwards case at home, 6 in which a rehearing has been granted, as we learn by mail today, may result in a decision which will leave us without means to punish criminals during the recess.

If Pettigrew in the Senate withdraws his opposition and Knox sees that there is no hope for the general Hawaiian bill,, HE (Knox) WILL WITHDRAW HIS OBJECTION TO THE SPECIAL BILLS, AND THEY MAY ALL GO THROUGH, but thus far Pettigrew is unyielding and we are pleased that it is so, as it may force Congress' attention to our matters as a

Mr. Dole should accept the invitation to send delegates to the trans-Mississippi Congress which meets in May. If, next winter, we have to make a fight against tariff discrimination, the endorsement of a territorial Government for Hawaii, without discrimination, if substantial and decisive, will be very useful

I am detaining Mr. Neumann here for a week or ten days to advise with Frear and myself upon these different matters.

Your letter received today with statistics as to labor, etc., will be very useful at this time. The impression here seems to be that importers in Hawaii have imported grossly in excess of their needs, up into the millions. We have not done much to @ contradict this, believing the tale a good lever to force prompt . legislative action; but I would like to correct the matter with . exact data before I leave.

I think the Senate finance committee, in order to secure delay of the customs laws and to quiet the administration, have represented that a retroactive clause can be put into the Hawaiian bill next winter, if in the meantime importations are so excessive as to warrant it. Yours very truly,

W. A. KINNEY

In this they were disappointed, however, as the Americans extinguished the are.

The losses of the Americans were slight, but the enemy's were large, both in skilled and wounded. Most of the casualties to the Filipinos were caused by shrapnel, the screaming and awful effect of which caused terror among the natives.

Among the American wounded is Colonel Bruce Wallace of the First Montana Infantry.

After the Americans were in possession of the town it was found there was only one house in town that had a flag-staff. This belonged to Mr Higgins, an Englishman, who is president of the pagupan Railway He loaned the staff to General Otis, and at 5 30 p'clock the American flag was floating over the town. PRODUCTION OF HEMP

Progress Made by the Hawaitan Fibre Company - Outlook for First Crop is Good.

Twenty miles west of Honolulu there is today an infant industry, comparatively unknown, which at no very distant date will probably take a leading rank in the industries of the Islands.

Last April a company was formed, with Cecil Brown, president; Mark Robinson, vice president; W. C. Weedon, secretary and treasurer; A. Turner, manager. The object of the Hawaiian Fibre Co., as it was termed, was the cultivation and manufacture tne Agave family and flourishes chiefly in Yucatan and the Bahama Islands. The Hawaiian Fibre Co., upon its organization, leased from Jas. Campof the cultivation of sisal. This tract road track and on the other side clear to the sea.

lt has not been many years since the first sisal plant was imported here with a view of another possible industry. Joseph Marsden imported a number from the Bahamas about five years ago and they were planted on a small piece of land this side of Pearl City, where is a pond for one-half the year and dried mud during the other half. They did not thrive, and it was thought they needed more water, as much as sugar cane. Some were taken up and planted on one edge of Ewa Sisal is a peculiar plant. It will thrive and flourish where nothing else her departure hence. It is said the green bay tree; when it gets into soil that is rich and has depth, and where had condition and that she is quite it immediately declines and loses tivation of sisal.

> The tract selected by the Hawaiian Fibre Co. is admirably suited for the purposes desired. It is rough, rocky and about as useless looking a piece of pround as one could find. It is not to be thought of in connection with land are under sisal cultivation. The plant on an average is about three feet in circumference, that is the bulb itbarb, and in all directions and angles. The perpendicular fronds are never taken. They are not ripe. As they ripen they fall toward the ground and turned into hemp.

While the plant has no roots to speak of, it throws out numerous suckers, or feeders, in all directions, Three telegrams were received by which turn into small plants. These the amount of pure fibre obtained from one plant in a year.

The company has cleared and planted about seventy-five acres of land. A comfortable home for the manager has been built. Everything is well conducted and prosperous looking.

The main difficulty is to obtain the fibre from the plant. Extensive machinery is necessary, but the management intends to put up the machinery in time to reduce the first crop, which they expect to take off in about two years.

This is one of the new businesses of the Islands The hemp industry is confined to a few places. It now seems that it will not be long before these Islands will take a leading, if not the leading place in the hemp industry. Specimens of hemp which have been worked out by hand can be seen at this

Can you imagine being born here, educated with these people and knowing them as I do that I could do less than to stand by the native Hawaiian as long as possible, and gentlemen, in case the tenure of my office should be shortened hereafter I desire at this time to say a good word for these peo-ple and to leave them to the kind con-sideration of the Bar. The Hawaiians are a confiding race and I trust you will always consider them as wards of our country. It seems to me that we ought to set a shining example to all men of the way in which a brown race can be treated by the white, treated fairly, justly and generously.

Mr. Hartwell said there had been great changes in this country within the past twenty-five years, especially in the courts, and in the law. I think we can thank him for the great-improvements made in the probate court system. To his labor is due the numer ous forms put into existence and used by the Bar from the year 1868 up to the present time. In those early days there were few lawyers who knew the practice, and if there is any one thing in my judicial career that I regret it is that I at times felt obliged to adhere to forms, thus losing eight of the true merits of a case. To my mind it is the duty of a judge to find the real justice of a case, and if there is anything I regret it is that at times I have celt obliged to follow rules of practice in regard to appeals and exceptions where, if real justice had controlled, I should not have done so. I trust that the law in regard to appeals and exceptions can yet be made more clear.

I thank you very much for this honor, gentlemen. I was a young man when I took the Bench. I was thirtyfour years of age. Judge Stanley, in comparison, was a mere child when he went on the Bench. I was about to remark that I was the longest office holder in the country, but I believe Luther Wilcox is the longest. I was Attorney General to King Lunalilo, and those were very trying times indeed. That was during the reign of a King who was generous to a fault, but who had a weakness which unally took him to the grave and that, too, only after one year of service. It was almost impossible to do anything in the way of advancement during his reign regret that the short reign of Lunalilo's did not produce more and better results. I believe the independent position of the Supreme Court was the bulwark of the Monarchy, and the Monarchy was strong and stable just so long as the Supreme Court was left intact, and it was only when there was an attempt made to destroy its independence that the Monarchy fell. I am glad to add to the testimony of Judge Hartwell as to the excellent work done by the Chief Justice in and during his long public service, and I recognize that his conservative intelligence and close acquaintance with the Hawaiian people and their customs (which might be termed the Hawailan common law) has been of great service to this country. There have been times when a different personnel in the Supreme Court might have been very There was a large and notable gath. The habeas corpus cases brought in the future. The Bar has been a very great elenfinence in the courts and in the legislatures. I think we have been very fortunate in having the Bar well represented in the legislative department of the Government. The expressions of the Bar, or of those members who met the Hawalian Commissioners, were conservative and strongly in tavor of a continuation of the present status of the Supreme Court. In regard to the life tenure of the office, personally I feel that is a very important matter, and that a change from a life tenure to a shorter term, especially if made elective, would be a serious departure and would affect the independence of the Supreme Court and its usefulness associations from time to time with it in the affairs of this country I trust that we may look forward to a continuance of the record which the Suequal in every respect to that which it has in the past been, for conserva-

A CREMATORY NEEDED.

Although there is abundant and pozitive proof of the danger to the health of the living from the present methods sof burial, it cannot be expected that public opinion will favor cremation for some time to come. Sentiment being stronger than reason, will preserve the existing custom of burial however dangerous it may be. The practice of boiling water in order to kill the germs of disease has only prevailed within a few years. Millions of human beings have prematurely perished .hy reason of drinking unwholesome water, and the friends of the dead have for centuries classed these premature deaths among the dispensations of providence. "Whereas, Divine Providence has in His mysterious way removed our beloved brother," has been and is, the customary way of holding the Almighty responsible for our own ignorance and neglect.

Are there men and women of sufficient influence in this community to induce the government as a sanitary measure, to establish a crematory, in which the remains of those who die of contagious diseases may be disposed of, or which may be used for the cremation of the bodies of those who prefer this asposition to that of burial? The establishment of such a crematory will be favorably received by the Japanese, now the largest part of our inhabitants. Gradually, as the people become more enlightened, the use of and involved the making of these Islit would increase. The time will come when this method will be generally favored, but it will come only through the growth of knowledge and education. A crematory in use will be in itself an education. The people who are shocked on reading about the unsamitary conditions of Havana, are only a little in advance of the Cubans ation that no municipal laws shall be who are indifferent to sanitary regmistions.

The least that should be done here is to erect a crematory, even if the use of it is not made compulsory

CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE.

Gov. Bob Taylor of Tennessee, on retiring from office, made the following striking remarks:

"To me there is nothing in this world so pathetic as a candidate. He is like a mariner without a compass, churting on the tempest-tossed waves of uncertainty, between the smiling chiffs of hope and the frowning crage of fear. He is a walking petition and a living prayer, he is the pack horse of public sentiment; he is the drome dary of politics. And even if he reaches the goal of his ambition, he will soon feel the beak of the vulture in his theart and the fang of the serpent in Mis soul "

Unwordly orators, and inexperienced words "the office should seek the man, and the man should not seek the will interest laymen office." Audiences always respond cheerfully to this noble sentiment, just as they respond with approval to the moble senument mat 'monesty is the best policy." But this maxim like several others that inadvertently appear regarding riches, in the New Testament, are lacking in practical value

If the office must seek the man, what becomes of the "masheen?" This practical device for securing rulers for the people, regards the maxim as one based upon a superficial knowledge of man's political duties. It regards with much more favor the suggestion of the tracing stores, "if you don't see what you want, ask for it"-if you don't see an offer of office ask for it. in an ideal democracy, the people, after careful deliberation, select such men for office as have proved themselves in private or public life to be men of judgment and integrity The office seeks the man." But there are in every community, however small, men -ho have an inordinate desire for office, either for the notoriety it gives them, or the profits it returns to them directly or indirectly. There are many men educated and capable who refuse to bold office under any circumstances The number of men of this kind is, unfortunately, increasing every year They find the conduct of political afa man can engage in. The offices seek these men, but without surves

wir. Ebenezer homiit is a man of rare talent and virtue, and is better ISSUED TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS fitted to hold offi than any person in the community. It will be a puelle calamity, if he is not elected. The community is rich in blessings hat possesses such a valuable citizen."

There is something "checky," of course, in this announcement. The self appointed candidate, however, never describes his attitude in plain English. It is the degradation of politics that men who want office virtually advertise themselves as the butcher advertises that he alone sells the best sausages. But the consumers understand that this is one of the harmless tricks of trade. When men who hunger for office practice the trick, and the people do not denounce it, it only proves that political ideas are very low.

Occasionally the people do rise out of this moral stupor, and live up to the ideal maxim that the "office should. seek the man." The election of Col-Roosevelt to the office of governor of New York is evidence of it. The pessimists will say, "the battle of San Juan did it." Perhaps so. But "the office sought the man."

HAWAII NOT A COLONY.

The movement in Congress by some of the Republican leaders to place this Territory in the same political relation to the Federal government that exists between the "ceded" Philippines, and Porto Rico and the government will probably not be successful.

Hawaii has been lawfully annexed to the United States with the consent of the Hawaitan government. The annexation act expressly recites the fact of this consent. It was a contract in which both parties deliberately joined, ands a part of the United States.

The Philippines and Porto Rico are conquered territories. Over the territory ceded by Spain, there is no argument for, or suggestion of, the dominance of the constitution and laws over the ceded territory. The relations of an annexed territory are not created.

While the question is a new one relative to the power of Congress to withhold the operation of the constitution and laws over territories, it has been decided indirectly by the Supreme, Court at various times. An Expert Engaged by This Paper. How to Make the Impressions for Analysis.

An expert in chirography and palmistry, a pupil of St. Germain, will. for a short time, make some replies to applications for information made according to the usual rules.

Palmistry has now come to be regarded as an exact science, and its exponents have rightly taken their place in the ranks of the professions along with the doctors and lawyers and vestigators, such as Count St. Germain and Cheiro; their disciples can read your life and character from the

What a Honolulu Lady Has to Say of Doan's Backache and Kidney Pills.

Many people are skeptical about taking so-called patent medicines, but a few testimonials as given below ought to convince the most skeptical that all remedies are not without merit.

Home testimonials certainly must be accepted as being first class and positive proof of the curative features of a remedy. Watch this space for a series of testimonials of people well and favorably known.

Mrs. Grace Dodd, 524 Young street, says: "I was troubled with enlargement of the liver; suffered severe pains in my right side and lame back for two years. After consulting a local physician and taking medicines of all kinds and failing to get relief I purchased a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and soon was relieved of the severe pains, could enjoy a good sleep and am satisfied the Pills cured me."

Doan's Kidney and Backache Pills can be obtained at the Hollister Drug Co., Ltd., Fort Street, at 50c a box.

STEP IN WAIALUA STOCK CASE

Plea to be Relieved of Embarrass ment-Objection of Owners of Shares Under Injunction.

Yesterday in the Circuit Court in the case of Jno. H. Soper and E. S. Valentine vs. B. F. Dillingham and the Waialua Agricultural Co., a motion was made by defendants that an order be made by the court directing the complainants to execute and put on file a bond of indemnity. In support of the motion the following affidavit of Joseph B. Atherton was filed:

J. B. Atherton, of Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Republic of Hawaii, being duly sworn, deposes and says:

First: That he is the president of the Walalua Agricultural Co., Ltd., an Hawaiian corporation, one of the defendants in above suit.

Second: That the number of shares of capital stock of said corporation is 35,000, representing at par the sum of Lively Trading in the New Stock $3,500,000; that the injunction issued in sald suit the Waialua Agricultural Co. is enjoined from issuing any of said shares of stock. Third: That the granting of said injunction causes great prejudice to degendant in the conduct of its business; and is likely to cause it great and irreparable injury; that said company is organized upon a cash basis; that the amount of its cash capital was made sufficiently large to meet all probable expenditures necessary to develop the plantation of said defendant company and to put it in good working order; that thereby it was intended to make said company independent of fluctuations of the money market; that said advantage will be to a great extent lost in case said injunction is continued; that two assessments of 10 per cent each have already been called from the stockholders of said company, amounting to $200,000 Each; that within the next three months a further assessment will probably be necessary, and it will be necessary to call in the entire capital of said company within two years; that said company while said injunction continues has no legal means of enforcing payment of said calls; that objection has been made by stockholders to the payment of assessments unless unqualified certificates for their shares can be issued; that it is now difficult to borrow any considerable money from the banks of Honolulu; that in consequence of existing conditions great loss may occur to said corporation in case it is unable to collect assessments upon the 10,000 shares involved in said suit over and beyond the amount of interest which said company might have to pay upon borrowed money; that certain persons claiming as subscribers through and under said Soper, have tendered the amount of said assessments to said company, but affiant says that they have never been accepted by said corporation as shareholders; and affiant says it is impossible to accept such tenders without prejudicing the rights of other subscribers who have been accepted by said company as members of

Chas. L. Wight Believes it Would Thrive in Puns. (Hilo Tribune.)

Mr. C. L. Wight, president of the Wilder S. S. Company, who takes a great deal of interest in the agricultural development of Hawaii, arrived through Hamakua. He is more particularly interested in the Puna district and believes there are thousands of acres in that section which could be more profitably cultivated in tobacco than in either coffee or sugar.
"I shall endeavor," said he, " to have introduced in the next Legislature a bill appropriating something like $10,-000 for the purpose of bringing into the country a thoroughly expert tobacco Board is strengthened by the name of grower, and conducting experiments Henry Waterhouse for the purpose of demonstrating the adaptability of various sections to tobacco raising and the proper method of its cultivation and curing.

CANAL AND SHIPPING BILLS

Mr. Cannon Cannot Figure How Money is to Be Had-Consternation Over Difficulties

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The speech | O of Cannon in opening the debate upon O the appropriation bill now under consideration was in some senses the most remarkable pronouncement of a O man in his position which has ever O been made in the House. He declared that there was not time for a proper consideration in the House of either $36,000. tue canal or shipping bill, and in the O more explicit, until it reached a stage of declaration from the ruling spirit of the lower body of Congress.

Cannon said the finances of the Nation were in such shape, if the expenditures of the year were made abnormal by the taking up of new projects, that there would be necessary an issue of bonds, as the normal revenues of the Government could not sustain them.

The effect upon the friends of the was magical. From the moment the speaker said there was not left of the session time enough to take up the bill, which, at is known, the Committee on Commerce will report, there was such a demonstration of the temper of Congress as could not be misunderstood. From every side of the chamber there were questions which showed that the men asking them were anxious to vote upon the measure.

There is stall a chance in the Senate that the canal bill will be put as a rider upon the rivers and harbors bill.

In connection with the bill Cannon made a general statement as to the condition of the revenues. The Secretary of the Treasury in October last, Cannon said, had estimated the defiviency of the revenues for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1899, to be $112,-000,0..., or a monthly average of $9,-333,0... In his judgment, in the light of the receipts and expenditures for the arst seven months thus estimated the deficiency was much too low. The actual deficiency up to February 1, 1899, was $93,151,000, an average of deficiency for the fiscal year would be $159,0...,000. But this would not include the $20,000,000 provided by the bill to carry out the provision of the Paris treaty. The cash balance in the Treasury on February 1st, including the $100,000,000 gold reserve, was $274,-000,000. Two hundred millions of that had been put into the revenues by the year loan. Deducting the monthly esti-There would be, therefore, $108,000,000 railroad yesterday. Government on that date. These figures, he continued, took no account of the sinking fund. To care for it would require $53,000,000 additional.

As Cannon proceeded the most intense interest was manifested in his state to settle the present dead-statement. The Secretary of the Treasury estimated the expenditures for the Chicago manufacturer; Mr. Upton and Mr. D. R. Smith, well known Massanext fiscal year, exclusive of the sinking fund, he said, at $641,000,000, and the famous Anaconda, Montana, mines; the revenues at $610,000,000, or a de- Mr. and Mrs. Boomer, prominent in ficiency of $31,000,000. It is estimated only for the ordinary maintenance of the Navy. But the Naval Committee would report in its full prosion for from twelve to fifteen battleships and cruisers. We did not complain. It was a logical sequence. The Army must be increased. It was, therefore, the part of wisdom and common prudence to fully realize the conditions which confronted us

"Do you take into account in your estimate," interrupted Dockery (D) of Missouri, "the Hanna-Payne subsidy Cannon replied that he did not in- ade in his calculation of a deficiency of $159,000,000 either the legislation for an efficient merchant marine or the construction of the Nicaragus canal. He favored the regeneration of the merchant marine (Republican applause) and the construction of the Micaragna canal (Republican ap-

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.-A cable to he Sun from Paris says: Justifying tself with the poor excuse of political expediency, the French Government and Chamber of Deputies today destroyed the foundations of justice in France. The bill depriving the criminal chamber of the Court of Cassation of jurisdiction in the Dreyfus case was passed by a vote of 332 to 216. Perhaps it is too soon to affirm that the rapid decline and fall of the Third Republic is now inevitable, because there is some hope that the bill will be rejected by the Senate. The fact that such a measure could receive this support in the popular branch of the French Legislature is itself evidence, however, that the country is once more on the edge of a political abyss. The Ministers and principal supporters of the iniquitous bill, in the amazing debate which preceded the vote, confessed that the imputations against the Judges had no shadow of justification. Most of the speeches implied the tacit admission that the mo-$13.307.000 per month. Thursday evening, the 16th, a small dwelling house opposite the Wailuku railroad station was completely destroyed by fire, the cause of which is still unknown. Walluku being possessed of no fire extinguishing apparatus or organization, the police took charge and by pushing over the burning building prevented a much larger destruction of property, as there were several dwellings within twenty feet of the fire. The loss amounted to between $300 and $400 dollars, there being no insurance. The property belonged to Manuel Roaz, of Paia, and was occupied by two Portuguese laborers. The only water available for extinguishing the flames was a barrelful owned by a neighboring Chinese store keeper. It is probable that an inquest will be held to ascertain the cause of the fire. Friday, the 17th, Judge McKay, of

Ancient Drawing Found, Lately on this Island.

Reproduction for this Paper.-Diffioult to Reach - A Headland Profile-The Kaual Ledge.

A jolly party of sightseers left Wright's Villa a few Sundays ago to visit the "Picture Rock Cave," which was discovered the week previous by Mr. Adams and a party of three others.

Leaving Wright's in busses we drove through Kapiolani Park and over the White Road to the extension of eBretania street, which we followed out past Isenberg's and Monsarrat's and around the makel side of the great fish pond just beyond the latter place, and branching off to the right just beyoud the last clump of algaroba trees we made straight for the lowest point of land lying between.

Here we found the lower crater of Koko head, and alighting and dividing the lunch packages among us, began that portion of the trip which must be traveled on foot. Picking our way down the side of the crater we soon found ourselves upon Pele's ancient scene of action. A short welk brought us to the outer wall of the crater, and, climbing to the top, we saw the ravine leading to the beach.

In Indian die we descended and at the opening of the ravine onto the beach we found "Pele's Bar," but as the Sunday closing law is very strict on the Islands, Madam Pele had closed up shop and was probably away enjoy ing the day with Mr. Pele and all the little Peles. At any rate all we could find was an empty "square face" standing on the deserted bar. -

Excitement prevailed upon reaching the first blow hole a little further on, and here our cameras were first brought into use. This Blow Hole No. 1 is a small aperture at the water's edge, opening evidently into a larger recess under the rock and the rushing in of the surf so compresses the air that the water is forced back under immense pressure in a huge jet of spray.

Pele's Candy Kitchen was our next scene of inspection and it was a wonder too, the strata, resembling a yellowish clay, was twisted and bent into all lible." manner of shapes and looked more like a great heap of fresh molasses candy than anything else we could think of.

In and out, up and down we went over boulders and under hanging rocks in through narrow rifts in the rocks and out upon narrow ledges overhanging the sea, sometimes threatened with a drenching from the surf and sometimes nearly taking an involuntary bath in consequence of the slipperiness of the lave.

Soon, however, we are at our destination and everybody says "Why. where is the cave?" At first glance there appears to be simply a rift in the strata, which at this place runs at an angle of nearly forty-five degrees, but a closer inspection reveals that there is ping their vitality and clouding their quite an entrance at the base of the happiness. cliff and entering and climbing up on the flat surface of the streta brings you to the pictures, a copy of which is herewith printed.

The area covered by these figures is about six and one-half feet by eleven feet and the impression having been taken on paper direct from the rock and reduced by photographic process their correct outline is maintained.

The roof of this cave is of no less interest than the pictures, formed as it evidently was by a thin flow of lava, which before it had cooled was struck by a shower of white rocks of an average size of six inches diameter and in appearance resembling limestone; these rocks penetrated the lava sufficlearly to show through on the under side and give to the cave the appearance of having been set with jewels. Later flows and the washing down of the higher soil have built the bank quite high above the cave.

After regaling the inner man and studying the bieroglyphics our band divided into emali parties and explored the coast for a mile or so beyond.

The "Watchman of Oahu" is unique study of rock formation and for the benefit of the reader a cut is printed showing the distinct outlines of this neturally formed face in the cliff.

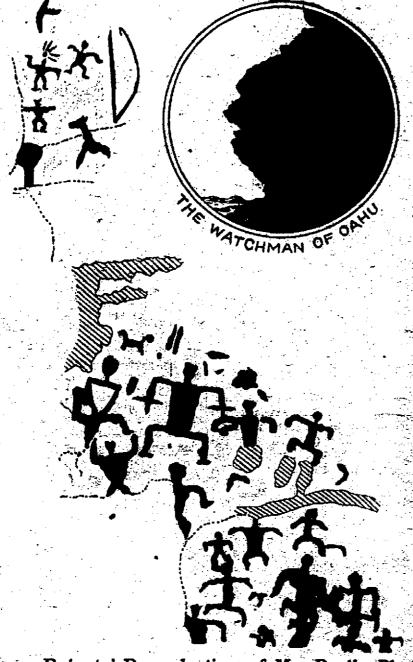

Next comes Blow Hole No. 2 and except that the surf is very strong and the tide high you can see but little of this ocean seyser.

At one point you come to an impas-sable cliff that projects out into the ocean and wonder what the chances are for further investigation. If, however, you follow the base of the cliff inland for a short distance you will observe a "Hole in the Ground" into which you areast fall if you desire to get to the other side of the cliff, a small, low passage leads through and pounds. Health and strength is mine brings you out upon the narrowest of and I am thankful to Dr. Williams' ledges, where your nerves for the moment are severely tested.

A beautiful sandy beach is found beyoud the next ridge and some of the party indulged in a swim in one of the finest surfs to be found on Oahn. Othfor shells and see weeds which abound along this shore.

Our return to the busees was over the same ground and as we talked over the events of the day all pronounced ambition is created and good health the trip one of the pleasantest and Teturns. most interesting days of our stay upon Chese Jeiands.
